SUDDEN DEATH OF MISS GALLAGHER

WAS THOUGHT TO BE RECOVERING FROM ATTACK OF RHEUMATISM.

Miss Ada Gallagher, who for the past two years has managed the Valley View hotel, died suddenly yesterday morning from inflammatory rheumatism. She had been ill for the past week and apparently was recovering. About fifteen minutes before her death the doctors in attendance stated that her recovery would be only a matter of a few days. The end came so suddenly and unexpected that it was impossible to summon all her relatives.

Miss Gallagher was a native of Mason Valley and came to Tonopah about three years ago. Her father, Pat Gallagher, is one of the pioneer ranchers in that section. Both Mr. and Mrs. Gallagher were summoned to Tonopah several days ago. Miss Gallagher is survived by her father and mother, two sisters, Mrs. S. V. Parker of Tonopah and Miss Kate Gallagher of Yerington, and three brothers.

The body will be taken to Mason Valley this morning and the funeral services will be held Saturday.

EVELYN WAS OBJECTIONABLE

NEW YORK, June 4.—James B. Regan, manager of the Knickerbocker hotel, has filed his answer to Evelyn Nesbit Thaw's suit to recover $25,000 damages. He admits that he requested Thomas to leave the "grill room" with Mrs. Thaw. In justification, he pleads:

"That as a result of the testimony of the plaintiff in the trial of Thaw she gained great notoriety and much doubt existed as to the truth of her testimony. She was most objectionable in the 'grill room' and objectionable to the patrons, customers and guests. That the plaintiff was accompanied and escorted to the 'grill room' by one E. R. Thomas, a married man."

ENTERTAIN LAST EVENING.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Morris entertained last evening at cards, the day being the first anniversary of their wedding. Twenty-five young people enjoyed their hospitality. "Five hundred" was the game indulged in. In the invitations, tally cards and prizes the Chinese motif was carried out. Delicious refreshments were served at the end of the game. Mrs. Morris was charming in her wedding gown of hand-embroidered white messaline, made in Empire style and entraine.

BRISSELL PASSES OUT A HOT SHOT

INFORMS RAILWAY OFFICIAL THAT COURT WILL NOT TOLERATE TRIFLING.

Bill Vlahakis, a Greek section hand, was in Judge Brissell's court yesterday on the charge of stealing ties from the railroad company. The case was rather complicated, as the railroad company was loth to prosecute and the defendant stated that he was entitled to the ties for firewood, as he receives only $3 a day and had been in the habit of taking the ties heretofore. It was proven that he had been given permission by an official of the road to take the aforesaid ties when he needed them. After considerable discussion Judge Brissell released Vlahakis and scored the railway for refusing to prosecute the case after swearing to a complaint.

WIRES FURNISHED THE INFORMATION

PARKHURST AND MONTEATH ANXIOUS ABOUT MALCOLM MACDONALD.

Major Monteath and Col. Lewis Parkhurst have been keeping the wires hot for the past forty-eight hours, trying to furnish relief to Malcolm Macdonald, who is tied up on the Great Northern railroad by the washouts. The following reply was received from a station called Wellrundry, Montana:

"Dear Parkie and Montie—Water, water everywhere, and not a drop to drink. Quite a swim to dry land, but think I will make it in forty-eight hours or days. St. Peter, or some other saint must have forgotten to turn off the faucet in heaven. If this neglect to turn off the water had occurred in Tonopah the saints and sinners on earth would all have been bankrupt. MAC."

$14,700 RESULT OF SECOND DAY

The second day's work on the famous Mohawk Combination lease on the Consolidated ground, showed no cessation in activity. The tonnage raised was at the rate of 70 tons a shift, or 210 tons for the day. The grade of the ore was not as good as on the first day, according to the grab samples, and probably the average was not better than $70. It is a rush to get out all the marketable ore possible, and in the first day's output a lot of the high grade that had been located by the management was looked after. No new ground is being opened up, and it is a rush to get out any ore that will do to ship to smelter or mill. This will continue during the life of the lease, and every corner and place where ore can be found will be cleaned up. It has come down to a sweeping process now, and the grade of the ore that will be hoisted will show a steady decrease. When the work is completed the owners of the company will be welcome to the leavings, as the lessees cannot handle it at a profit.—Goldfield Tribune.

TAYLOR-DANIELS AT THE PAVILION

"MAN OF MYSTERY" WELL PORTRAYED BY FINISHED ACTORS.

A very large crowd attended the opening production of "The Man of Mystery," presented by the Taylor-Daniels stock company at the Pavilion last night, and witnessed one of the cleverest and most finished productions that it has been the good fortune of Tonopah to witness for some time. Space will not permit any of the well deserved personal mention. We can only say that the management certainly deserves much praise on their selection of plays and players. The ladies displayed some extraordinary wardrobes, which was one of the features of the evening.

Those wishing to witness this popular play will only have tonight to do so. The piece presented on Saturday evening will be Jacob Lett's great masterpiece, "In Old Kentucky."

PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR

State of Nevada—A proclamation relative to the unveiling of the statue of the late John W. Mackay.

Whereas, Clarence H. Mackay and wife of New York City, and Mrs. John W. Mackay of London, England, widow of the late John W. Mackay, in his lifetime one of Nevada's most distinguished citizens, have donated to the State of Nevada a new building for the School of Mines of the University of Nevada, together with a life-sized bronze statue of the late John W. Mackay; and

Whereas, the Legislature of this State by joint and concurrent resolution (passed March 29, 1907) has made fitting acknowledgment of these highly appreciated gifts; expressed its approval of the selection of Gutzon Borglum, a native son of Nevada, for the sculptural work of making the statue; declared that the day on which the statue is unveiled shall be proclaimed a public holiday, and that the generous donors of the building and statue, Clarence H. Mackay and wife and Mrs. John W. Mackay, and their companions, shall on that day be the guests of the State of Nevada; and

Whereas, on the 10th day of June, A. D. 1908, the statue of our former distinguished and respected fellow-citizen will be unveiled and opportunity given all who desire to gaze upon the sculptured features once so familiar to our people:

Therefore, by virtue of the authority in me vested as the chief executive of the State of Nevada, I hereby proclaim Wednesday, the 10th day of June, 1908, a public holiday, and earnestly urge and recommend that upon that day all business houses be closed, and that our people, generally, abstain from their usual occupations as far as possible, to the end that the wishes of the Legislature may be observed and respected and due honor be paid to the memory of a man who did much for the upbuilding of our great State.

I further proclaim that upon the above-named day the said Clarence H. Mackay and wife, Mrs. John W. Mackay, and their friends accompanying them, shall be deemed the honored guests of the State of Nevada, to be treated with every possible courtesy and consideration by the citizens of our State.

Done under my hand and the great seal of the State of Nevada, at Carson City, this 29th day of May, A. D. 1908. D. S. DICKERSON, Lieutenant and Acting Governor.

Attest:
W. G. DOUGLASS, Secretary of State.
